The Eastern Shore Community Services Board's (ESCSB) Substance Abuse Services is generally offered in a group format. Individual therapy and case management services are available to supplement the group modality as needed.

When an individual requires a more intensive level of care than outpatient services can provide, staff members may arrange for the individual to be admitted to inpatient social or medical detoxification services or to a 28 day rehabilitation program.

The program also treats adolescents who have substance abuse or chemical dependency problems with either individual or group therapy.
