At the Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board, the Annandale Consumer Wellness Center is a place where people with mental illness can stop by to enjoy a cup of coffee, socialize, or just hang out in a low stress, low demand environment. Centers are typically staffed with volunteers and paid peer-staff who ensure a safe, comfortable, and friendly atmosphere. People who come to the centers connect with (and find hope and inspiration from) a community of people in recovery. Peers encourage one another toward independence in housing, education, and jobs.

Services include:

- Crisis Support;
- Peer-run Support Groups;
- Individual Peer Support;
- Woman's Peer Support Group;
- Wellness Recovery Action Plan Training;
- Recovery Coaching;
- Community Outreach;
- 12-Step Meetings;
- Linkages to Community Services Board and other County Services;
- Advocacy Training;
- Social and Recreational Activities;
- Clothing Closet;
- Transportation to Appointments;
- Community Meals;
- Computer and Internet Access;
- Literacy Training and Education Support;
- Mail Service;
- Outreach to Peers in the Hospital and Shelters;
- Volunteer Opportunities.
