The American Canoe Association offers an Adaptive Paddling Program designed to provide instructors, outfitters, recreation program providers, and rehabilitation professionals the information they need to integrate paddlers with disabilities into their programs. The workshop includes how to compensate for paddlers loss of function due to a disability, how to adapt equipment and instruction and how to focus on the paddlers' ability. This course includes a classroom and hands-on learning, an on-water pool session, and open water paddling. Visit the website for dates and locations of the workshops.
